

Adult Education Course—Fall 2019

The New Testament: A Bible Study Course

Schedule:

Starts, September 4

Time: 10—11:15 a.m.

Facilitator: Tom Uss

Fr. Nicholas King, S.J. taught the New Testament at Oxford University for 12 years; he continues to lecture at Campion Hall and currently teaches Biblical Studies at Heythrop College, University of London. The one-time Academic Director of Theology at St. Mary's University, Twickenham (London), Fr. King also taught in South Africa — where he served as a District Observer for its first democratic elections. The former chair of the Catholic Biblical Association, Fr. King is known for his translations of the New Testament and the entire Greek Bible.